

Here are a series of questions to explore in this week's tutorial:

1. Any questions regarding the final exam?
2. Explain good exam technique using Critical Thinking.
3. Why is it important to check the positioning of information when analysing a text?
Give an example related to how statistics could be placed together and why?
4. Name four types of content flaws to check for when analysing an article? Which type of content flaw do you think is most commonly made in writing?
5. How does making assumptions link to flawed arguments?
6. If there are missing pieces in an argument, what is the potential impact?
